

President's Corner

We have all noticed in the last year our website take on a great new look, thanks to Derek spending a lot of time and skill in redesigning it. We do not under estimate the great, great foundation Colin laid in his many years of faithful web design. So we Submitted our site into the AAW "Best Chapter Website" contest. I expect the results will be coming out late nest month. Part of the arrangement was that one of us would evaluate 4 other websites. I took on that job and in the process discovered a few things.

One Chapters requirement is for all members to be registered with the AAW for liability insurance requirements. I believe about 15-20 percent of our membership is registered with the AAW. We purchase liability insurance through a cooperative of woodworking guilds.

Another thing I noticed was the tremendous variety in website content and design. Check out the steady rest on this site <http://www.msswt.org/Tips/Default.sapx>. A number of sites including ours are now offering small video clips. Each tip and article represents someone who got involved. One of the criteria was "up-to-date". Have you looked at the images from Eric Lofstom's Demo? My favourite is the one of the flying chips. <http://www.fvwg.ca/FVWG/Gallery%20Eric%20Lovstrom.html> Thanks to Wayne for taking them. Derek always has something fresh on the site. Its changing all the time. So if you looked at it 6 months ago its time to look again.

Coming up in May is the famous "Egg Cup Race" where you never know if and when that blank is going to pop out on the floor because you tried to go too fast. Try a few practice runs at home on a 2x2x4" blank and bring along a son or grandson for the Youth turning. The beginning of the meeting is our AGM along with elections which will happen right after announcements. See you there.

Are you looking for some green “Horse Chestnut” wood?

Keith Still has contacted Bill Olsen with this information about a Horse Chestnut tree he cut a few weeks ago, He has milled some of the wood with a wood miser banc saw mill to 4” and 3” thick in approximately 4’ to 7’ lengths and it is de-barked. Some is quarter sawn and some is flat sawn. Some pieces have the pith in. The wood has been end treated.

Some of the block pieces have been cut with a chainsaw. Several 100bd. ft. have not been cut up yet and some custom cutting could be done.

Keith is asking $1.00 /bf for this material.

The wood is located south of Langley around 9th Ave and 232nd street. Keith lives in Surrey so he would have to meet you there.

“The Passing of a Friend”

Lorne Ralph Cawley

August 04, 1928 - March 23, 2009

Lorne was born in Edmonton, Alberta. He was married to Mary and they raised three children; Sharon, Ken and Gail.

Lorne had a heart attack and was hospitalized in Powell River while visiting his son, Ken. He developed pneumonia and was transferred to Maple Ridge hospital where he was diagnosed with Pulmonary Fibrosis and passed away when the pneumonia returned.

Who was this man? What was he like?

Well, I got to meet him at church one Sunday morning and from there we became best of friends. Lorne loved his church and his family. He had many friends which was obvious as the church was full to celebrate his life. Lorne loved to work with his hands helping with repairs at the Church, and helping children. He was a volunteer for handicap horseback riding, and handicap curling, as well as a judge for horseback riding. He loved to go fishing with his granddaughter on the North Shore.

Lorne and I spent many happy times in my shop cutting out projects for the kids to build at the church fair. From that endeavour we teamed up with and Lance Rossington to make bat houses with a class of grade five students. There was always lots of laughter and fun as each project was completed.

Lorne was an avid walker. He belonged to a walking club and walked three times a week. He also liked meeting with his Tim Horton's buddies every afternoon.

Lorne got hooked on woodturning when we introduced him to our club. He attended every GVWG Turning 101 Session until he got sick. I could always count on him to come out and help lug the lathes around, make coffee, or do whatever needed to be done to get the room ready. He completed every project and went on to make others. Some of his bowls and pens went into silent auctions to benefit one of his many passions. His son Ken completed an urn that Lorne started which was put on display as a collaborative piece at Lorne's memorial service.

At our monthly GVWG meetings Lorne would help wherever he could. He would work tirelessly to help anybody who needed it. Lorne and I also joined the Fraser Valley Woodturners Guild where he would also help wherever he could. Lorne was a very positive inspiration to all of us who knew him. He was always ready for a laugh or to tell a story. He loved life and a good joke. He was joking right up until the day he passed away.

On behalf of the family, thank you for your kind emails and all the wonderful cards you sent.

April Galleries.

These are pictures of Presidents challenge and the FOF Gallery
We encourage all members to submit to the galleries each month,

The way to learn is to have others in the craft make comment on what you are doing. To learn how to turn is one thing and something you do on your own. If you want to learn to turn well it helps to have others look at what you do and give suggestions. This is sometimes hard for beginners. Look to the mentors and ask them questions, call them up and have them spend some time with you. Sharing information and knowledge is what the guild is all about.

Mike .

Tool Making with Greg Parsons

Last month's Demo was by Greg Parsons on how to make your own tools. It was very informative and entertaining, hope you all have had a chance to change those files into amazing hollowing tools.

Woodturning Mentors

These people have made themselves available to new turners that may have the odd question about a tool or process. A short conversation or demo by an experienced turner can save you many hours of frustration.

Be respectful of their time. This service is not intended to take the place of woodturning lessons.
